The great feast of Easter has begun, Christian stewards. Let us rejoice and be glad! Just as we embraced the discipline and fasting of Lent, let us fully embrace the joy and feasting that the next 50 days offer. We are called to be good stewards of the Easter season by sharing the good news of the resurrection with one another.

In today's Gospel, Mary of Magdala and the other apostles see only hints of the resurrection. Mt. 28:1-10. Mary is left for now to put the pieces together for herself. And yet our sequence puts the most confident words in her mouth: "Yes, Christ my hope is arisen!" Amid loss and confusion, Mary still witnesses to what she has seen. She picks up the pieces of resurrection around her. She declares the truth of life to us.

Like Mary, we are called today to look around us for clues of the resurrection. Even all these years later, the church is still at work piecing together these clues. Easter invites us to train our eyes so that we see the empty tomb not as a void but as a promise. Our understanding is still unfolding. And even as it unfolds, Easter demands that we serve as witnesses to what we have seen. As we ask Mary of Magdala to witness, so must we as church declare confidently with her: "Yes Christ, my hope, is arisen."

When England was fighting Napoleon at the battle of Waterloo, the English government had signs placed in a variety of cities to let the citizens of Great Britain know how the war was going. One such sign was on the bell tower of Winchester Cathedral. When the sign went up that summer day in 1815, it was partly obscured by cloud and fog, but the people could see enough of the sign to be able to read: "England defeated." Everyone who saw it felt defeated too, until the cloud lifted, and they could see the whole sign which read: "England defeated Napoleon." Within seconds, their sorrow was turned into joy and defeat was swallowed up in victory. Likewise, when Jesus died on the cross, those who believed in him felt lost and defeated. Jesus was dead and so were their hopes for a better world. But in just a couple of days their sorrow was turned into joy and defeat was swallowed up in victory.

A fourth-grade teacher planned to perform an Easter pageant for the parents of her students. Every boy and girl had a part to play. After all the parts were given out, Johnny was the last child to receive a part. He got to be the stone in front of the tomb. No special costume was required for this part. All he had to do was to roll himself into a ball and pretend to be the stone. The teacher felt sorry for Johnny since all the other children got to wear costumes, so before the final performance, she asked Johnny if he wanted another part so he could wear a costume. Johnny did not want to change. He said, "It's the most important part. If the stone doesn't roll away, nobody can get into the tomb and see that it is empty."

A very smart little boy! The stone had to be moved away, not so Jesus could get out. He had already risen. He was out of there. The stone had to be removed for us that we could see the tomb was empty; so, we could say that death had been robbed of its power; so we could set that a new world order had begun; so we could see the truth in Jesus' words: "I am the resurrection and the life."

At Easter we see lilies, Easter baskets, colored eggs, Easter bunnies, new outfits, etc., but the main symbol is the empty tomb, now in the Church of the Holy Sepulcher in Jerusalem. We've all seen artistic interpretations of the resurrection, but no one except the Roman guards were there when it happened, and they reported it only to the high priests. The only evidence we have of the resurrection is an empty tomb and man's eyewitness accounts of people who saw Jesus after His resurrection, people who were willing to go to their death to witness that He was alive, and they indeed did see Him.

Those who saw Him knew that what they were seeing was entirely different than anything they had ever seen before. Jesus was not just a dead man who had come back again to live the life He had before. He came back to a new kind of life, one that is beyond our ability to relate to so it is shrouded in mystery for us, and yet it is very real. He could be seen and touched, He could eat food with His friends, He could move from one place to another effortlessly, walls and locked doors could not keep Him in or out, and those who saw Him reported He even looked different. Yet when they saw Him they knew it was no one else but the Lord.

His friends eventually came to know that when they saw Jesus, His resurrection was more than God's endorsement on His good life. They knew His resurrection had something to do with them. The young man at the tomb told the women, "He is going before you to Galilee." (Mk. 16, 1-7) His friends came to know that He was always ahead of us and was always going before us, calling us to follow Him. He is our good shepherd, guiding us to new life. His resurrection was not just a personal favor to Jesus. It is a preview for each and every one of us who will allow ourselves to be guided by His word and sacraments. When Jesus told his friend Martha when her brother died, "I am the resurrection and the life," He added, "whoever believes in Me, even if he dies, will live, and whoever lives and believes in Me will never die." Because of this, St. Paul tells us today, "If then you were raised with Christ, seek what is above, where Christ is seated at the right hand of God. Think of what is above, not of what is on earth." (Coloss. 3, 1-4)

Jesus overcame the power of evil and death in His resurrection. This does not mean evil and death no longer exist in the world. And because they do exist, many people discount Jesus' resurrection. It is true, the resurrection has not removed evil and death from the face of the earth, but it tells us evil and death will not have the last word. They are not the final outcome; they cannot ultimately defeat us if we share Christ's life. Today we celebrate Jesus' victory and our own. "This is the day the Lord has made. Let us rejoice and be glad." Happy Easter to all of you. Amen.

Today's Readings

First Reading: This man God raised on the third day and granted that he be visible, not to all the people, but to us, the witnesses chosen by God in advance, who ate and drank with him after he rose from the dead. (Acts 10:40-41)

Psalm: This is the day the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad. (Ps 118) Or Alleluia.

Second Reading: If then you were raised with Christ, seek what is above, where Christ is seated at the right hand of God. (Col 3:1)

Gospel: For they did not yet understand the Scripture that he had to rise from the dead. (Jn 20: 9)

Dear Sisters and Brothers in the Risen Lord,

At Easter time, we proclaim and celebrate that Christ, our hope, has risen from the dead and is active in the life of the Church. He is our hope as the world faces so many challenges.

Think of our sisters and brothers in Ukraine and people in other parts of the world who daily struggle with war, civil unrest, violence, repression, and natural disasters. Think of those who are homeless and who walk our streets and those whose streets in our city are plagued with violence. Think too of the dark forces that continue to polarize our society and result in our own sinfulness, and the suffering of so many in mind or body with chronic illness. In the face of all this, we clearly know our need for the risen Christ, who is our hope.

I urge you to reclaim your Easter faith and hope in Christ, especially as you gather with your parish community and once again hear the proclamation "Christ is risen!" We sing in response "Alleluia, he is truly risen," to express that on hearing this good news we deepen our faith that by rising from the tomb, Christ has broken the bonds of sin and death, and claims us as his very own daughters and sons of light.

Let this Easter season be a new springtime for us personally, our parishes and our archdiocese as we continue our renewal and commitment to be missionaries of hope to a world so much need.

Finally, let us pray for one another, for all those we love, and for all who have not yet heard or accepted new and lasting hope in Christ our risen Lord.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Archbishop of Chicago

"THE JOY OF EASTER"
 PRAYER FOR CHILDREN

Oh, dear Lord, when I first learned about your Crucifixion, fear was in my heart. Knowing what they did to you is hard to understand. I was worried that we lost you but trusted, this was planned. Now, I understand the joy your painful path would bring. Now, I know your sacrifice that we rejoice and sing. Behold the joy of Easter, the miracle we were shown. Rejoice your Resurrection, our faith forever sown.

"LA ALEGRÍA DE LA PASCUA"
 ORACIÓN PARA LOS NIÑOS

Oh, querido Señor, cuando aprendí por primera vez acerca de tu Crucifixión, el miedo estaba en mi corazón. Saber lo que te hicieron es difícil de entender. Me preocupaba que te perdiéramos, pero confié, esto estaba planeado. Ahora, entiendo la alegría que traería tu doloroso camino. Ahora, conozco tu sacrificio que nos regocijamos y cantamos. He aquí la alegría de la Pascua, el milagro que se nos mostró. Alégrate tu Resurrección, nuestra fe sembrada para siempre.

Faith Formation

I can't help but feel nostalgic when I think about that Sunday, two thousand years ago, and the joy of the morning when Jesus appeared to Mary Magdalene outside the tomb. She was distraught with the knowledge that her Teacher, her Friend, her Leader, had been taken away. Then Jesus called her, "Mary," and she immediately turned around to see Him. He was alive! Her teacher was not dead, but alive!

Sunday is the day that changed it all. For her. For the disciples. For all of us.

Not only did Jesus die for our sins, but He rose again, defeating sin and death for all time. This brings us much hope because, though our lives are full of sorrow and pain, sickness, death and betrayal, Jesus' death brings us hope amid the messiness of life. Because of the death and resurrection of Jesus, we can boldly proclaim the truth that Paul proclaims in Romans: "For I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worth comparing with the glory that is going to be revealed to us" (Rom 8:18).

We have a hope awaiting us in heaven that infinitely outshines the suffering and pain that we might experience here. The resurrection of Jesus confirms hope for us. Easter joy, an encounter with our Risen Lord doesn't just come to us. We must seek it. All of us approximately 2,000 years later are truly blessed to know how the story unfolds. We can seek to meet the Risen Lord knowing that He comes to us and calls us to Himself. Easter joy, the joy of the Risen Lord is indeed ours when we seek Him!

How can we seek the Lord in such difficult times? In such depressing, scary, difficult times? In faith, in hope, and in charity! Seek Him! Believe in the power of God to transform our mourning into laughter and our fear into confidence. Live the truths and commandments of our faith. Long for the coming of God's Kingdom, fulfillment only in Jesus Christ, and eternal life with Him. Long for the glory of God to be revealed through these difficult times.

Sandra Bustamante,
PA/Director of Faith Formation

Formación en la Fe

No puedo evitar sentir nostalgia cuando pienso en ese domingo, hace dos mil años, y en la alegría de la mañana cuando Jesús se apareció a María Magdalena fuera del sepulcro. Estaba angustiada al saber que se habían llevado a su Maestro, su Amigo, su Líder. Entonces Jesús la llamó, "María," y ella inmediatamente volteó a verlo. ¡El estaba vivo! ¡Su maestra no estaba muerta, sino viva!

El domingo es el día que lo cambió todo. Para ella. Para los discípulos. Por todos nosotros.

Jesús no solo murió por nuestros pecados, sino que resucitó, venciendo el pecado y la muerte para siempre. Esto nos da mucha esperanza porque, aunque nuestras vidas están llenas de tristeza y dolor, enfermedad, muerte y traición, la muerte de Jesús nos da esperanza en medio del desorden de la vida. Debido a la muerte y resurrección de Jesús, podemos proclamar con valentía la verdad que Pablo proclama en Romanos: "Porque considero que los sufrimientos de este tiempo presente no son dignos de compararse con la gloria que nos ha de ser revelada" (Rom 8, 18).

Tenemos una esperanza esperándonos en el cielo que eclipsa infinitamente el sufrimiento y el dolor que podríamos experimentar aquí. La resurrección de Jesús nos confirma la esperanza. La Alegría Pascual, un encuentro con nuestro Señor Resucitado, no viene solo a nosotros. Debemos buscarlo. Todos nosotros, aproximadamente 2000 años después, somos verdaderamente bendecidos al saber cómo se desarrolla la historia. Podemos buscar el encuentro con el Señor Resucitado sabiendo que Él viene a nosotros y nos llama a Sí mismo. ¡Alegría pascual, la alegría del Señor Resucitado es verdaderamente nuestra cuando lo buscamos!

¿Cómo podemos buscar al Señor en tiempos tan difíciles? ¿En tiempos tan deprimentes, aterradores y difíciles? ¿En la fe, en la esperanza y en la caridad! ¡Búscalo! Cree en el poder de Dios para transformar nuestro lamento en risa y nuestro miedo en confianza. Vivir las verdades y mandamientos de nuestra fe. Anhela la venida del Reino de Dios, la realización solo en Jesucristo y la vida eterna con Él. Anhela que la gloria de Dios se revele a través de estos tiempos difíciles.
