In honor of Earth Day, April 22, 2023, contemplate the wonders of God's creation. Contemplation, (i.e. resting in God's presence) is an authentically Catholic practice and a way of coming to a deeper appreciation of finding God in all of creation. Take some time to contemplate outdoors. Pope John Paul II said, "Faced with the glory of the Trinity in creation, we must contemplate, sing, and rediscover awe."

SECOND SUNDAY OF EASTER
(Sunday of Divine Mercy)

Doubting Thomas Jn 20:19-31

I understand this is a true story from here in the U.S. The owner of a certain bar in one of the southern states decided to expand its facilities. The local church, which disapproves of drinking alcohol, started a prayer campaign to prevent the bar from expanding. Construction on the bar progressed up until the week before the grand opening when lightning struck and burned the entire bar to the ground. After the bar burned, the church folks started bragging about “the power of prayer.” So, the bar owner sued the church on the grounds that the church “was ultimately responsible for the demise of his building, either through direct or indirect action or means.” In response to the accusation, the church denied all responsibility to the burning of the building. The judge read through the bar owner's charges and the church's response and commented, “I don't know how I'm going to rule on this, but it appears that we have a bar owner who believes in the power of prayer, and an entire Baptist church congregation that now does not.” (found on the internet)

Our Gospel today touches on several themes, with faith being one of them. Jesus offers His friends His own special peace. He gives them a commission to continue His work: “as the Father has sent Me, so I send you.” As a helper in this ministry, He gives them the Holy Spirit, and one of the works of Jesus they would do was to forgive sins. This passage gave rise to the designation of this Sunday as Divine Mercy Sunday. God's mercy, however, is not limited to this one Sunday. God is ready to forgive us any time we approach Him with true sorrow for our sins.

Then we have the memorable story of Thomas who missed Jesus' first appearance and refused to believe in Jesus' resurrection until he had concrete proof. Jesus gave it to him the following week. Yes, God is ready to forgive us, but we must have a complete trust in His mercy. Our first reading, from the Acts of the Apostles, describes this beautiful way of life as it was practiced by the first Christians.

“They devoted themselves to the teaching of the apostles and to the communal life, to the breaking of the bread and to the prayers.” And “They ate their meals with exultation and sincerity of heart, praising God and enjoying favor with all the people.” This is a snapshot of the very first community of Christian stewards living out their daily life — embracing prayer (the breaking of the bread), formation (the teaching of the apostles), hospitality (the communal life and fellowship through joyful meals together), and mutual service. What an inspiration to us modern-day stewards!

The Easter season is not the time to let up in the practice of our faith now that Lent is behind us. Rather, it is a time to live our faith with deeper joy and gratitude as we bask in the celebration of our Lord's victory over sin and death for us. St. Peter summarizes this Easter outlook eloquently in our second reading. Our daily lives should be a reflection of this attitude: “Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who in His great mercy gave us a new birth to a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance that is... kept in heaven for you.” St. Peter acknowledges that life can be difficult however, saying that “In this you rejoice, although now for a little while you may have to suffer through various trials.”

From the gospel story of this weekend, we learn that there is hope for all of us in this age of anxiety. There is help when we feel like giving up. There is courage when we are tempted to hide. For there is One who can enter any room. There is One who can overcome any problem. There is One who can bring peace to every anxious heart. In fact, today He holds out His hands to us and shows us His side and says, “Peace be with you. Do not be doubting. But believe.” In Jesus' name, Amen.

Fr. Mark Kalema, Pastor

Gospel: On the evening of that first day of the week, when the doors were locked, where the disciples were, for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in their midst and said to them, “Peace be with you.” (Jn 20:19)

Faithful of many local denominations gathered at St. Ann on Good Friday to begin the annual Lansing Community Way of the Cross. The weather was perfect and clear as members and friends of Trinity Lutheran and All Souls carried the heavy cross down Ridge Road, stopping 14 times to observe the Stations of the Cross, read by Lansing clergy. Upon arrival at Trinity Lutheran, the followers of the Cross went inside for a prayer service and solemn remembrance of Jesus' crucifixion. Thank you to Pastor John Holyer and the people of Trinity for planning this special event every year. Pastor Holyer announced that this will be his final Good Friday with us, as he and his family are moving on to his next position, but he hopes that the tradition will continue. We wish him the best!

Faith Formation

Hope Lives After Easter!

At Easter, we relive the story of how a shameful and bloody crucifixion transformed into a winning resurrection to everlasting life. We marvel again at Calvary where sin and death were conquered forever. Christ died in our place—the Righteous One for the unrighteous; the Sinless One for the sinful; the Holy God for the ungodly.

The high spirit of Easter morning is like no other day. And yet shouldn't we celebrate the wonder of our living hope (1 Peter 1:3–5) each day of the year? Must we wait for Easter to roll around again to reclaim joy and hope?

Hope doesn't come naturally to most of us even if we're glass-half-full kinds of people. Even I wrestled with writing this article while hope was slowly draining from my heart. But there's good news . . . the more hope is practiced, the more hope grows.

Start building your hope chest with these confident expectations:

- Hope is putting your faith for tomorrow into action today.
- Hope is strengthened when you're surrounded by faith-filled friends and family.
- The empty tomb of Easter is proof Christians are never without hope.

Sandra Bustamante,
Pastoral Associate, Director of Faith Formation

Formación en la Fe

¡La esperanza vive después de la Pascua!

En Pascua, revivimos la historia de cómo una crucifixión vergonzosa y sangrienta se transformó en una resurrección ganadora a la vida eterna. Nos maravillamos nuevamente ante el Calvario donde el pecado y la muerte fueron vencidos para siempre. Cristo murió en nuestro lugar: el Justo por los injustos; el Sin Pecado para los pecadores; el Dios Santo por los impíos.

El buen humor de la mañana de Pascua es como ningún otro día. Y, sin embargo, ¿no deberíamos celebrar la maravilla de nuestra esperanza viva (1 Pedro 1:3–5) todos los días del año? ¿Debemos esperar a que vuelva la Pascua para recuperar la alegría y la esperanza?

La esperanza no es algo natural para la mayoría de nosotros, incluso si somos del tipo de personas que ven el vaso medio lleno. Incluso luché con escribir este artículo mientras la esperanza se estaba drenando lentamente de mi corazón. Pero hay buenas noticias. . . cuanto más se practica la Esperanza, más crece la esperanza.

Comience a construir su cofre de la esperanza con estas expectativas seguras:

- La esperanza es poner en acción hoy tu fe para el mañana.
- La esperanza se fortalece cuando estás rodeado de amigos y familiares llenos de fe.
- La tumba vacía de Pascua es prueba de que los cristianos nunca están sin esperanza.

Sandra Bustamante,
Asociado Pastoral, Directora de Formación en la Fe
