The Fourth Sunday of Lent:
ACCEPTING OR REJECTING THE LIGHT
(John 3: 14-2)

Today is what we call Laetare Sunday. Most of us are quite accustomed to the Mass being conducted in our native tongue, and we may have lost track of the fact that Latin is still the official language of the Church. On occasion, Latin reasserts itself. This Sunday is one of those times as Laetare means “Rejoice” in Latin. The Introit to the Mass (the entrance antiphon) begins “Laetare, Jerusalem” (Rejoice, Jerusalem!).

The actual midpoint of Lent occurred this past Thursday, and this day has traditionally been viewed as one of celebration, when we sort of lessen the soberness normally attached to Lent. You may notice some changes in the church itself in terms of environment, and some priests and deacons, when you watch different Masses on your television, they have the option of wearing pink or rose vestments rather than purple or violet. This Sunday has a corresponding day during Advent called Gaudete Sunday. The point of both these days is to provide us with encouragement during our penitential seasons. As part of this more upbeat attitude and approach to our celebrations of Mass this weekend, there is a focus on salvation and redemption, which is the reason we have to “rejoice.”

Today's Gospel reading from John invites us to reflect on the profound truth of God's love and mercy. In this passage, we hear the famous words of Jesus, "For God so loved the world that He gave hHis only Son, so that everyone who believes in Him might not perish but might have eternal life."

These words are a powerful reminder of the depth of God's love for each and every one of us. God's love is not conditional or limited - it is infinite and unconditional. It is a love that knows no bounds and is freely given to all who are willing to receive it.

As we journey through this season of Lent, let us take the time to reflect on the incredible gift of God's love and mercy. Let us open our hearts to receive this gift and allow it to transform us from within. Let us remember that no matter how far we may have strayed or how unworthy we may feel, God's love is always there, waiting for us to turn back to Him.

May we be inspired by the example of Jesus, who gave His life out of love for us, so that we may have eternal life. Let us strive to live our lives in a way that reflects this love to others, showing kindness, compassion, and forgiveness to all we encounter.

May we always remember the words of Jesus in today's Gospe, "For God did not send His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world might be saved through Him." Let us embrace this message of salvation and share it with all those we meet.

May God bless you abundantly and fill your hearts with His love and peace. Amen.

Fr. Mark Kalema, Pastor

Today's Readings

First Reading: Early and often did the LORD, the God of their fathers, send his messengers to them, for he had compassion on his people and his dwelling place. But they mocked the messengers of God, despised his warnings, and scoffed at his prophets, until the anger of the LORD against his people was so inflamed that there was no remedy. (2 Chr 36:15-16)

Psalm: Let my tongue be silenced, if I ever forget you! (Ps 137)

Second Reading: God, who is rich in mercy, because of the great love he had for us, even when we were dead in our transgressions, brought us to life with Christ. (Eph 2:4-5)

Gospel: For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him might not perish but might have eternal life. (Jn 3:16)

Excerpts from the Lectionary for Mass ©2001, 1998, 1970 CCD. The English translation of Psalm Responses from Lectionary for Mass © 1969, 1981, 1997, International Commission on English in the Liturgy Corporation. All rights reserved. ©LPi

Reflect & Respond to Scripture

First Reading:

We hear how God reacted strongly against Israel's disobedience and infidelity, ultimately sending them to exile in Babylon. But God also showed mercy to Israel in sending king Cyrus of Persia to rescue them. As we enter the fourth Sunday of Lent, for what do you need God's mercy in your life?

Second Reading:

Paul taught the Ephesians that by God's mercy and grace, we have been saved through Christ for the good works that God has prepared for us. Where in your life do you feel like you are doing God's work?

Gospel:

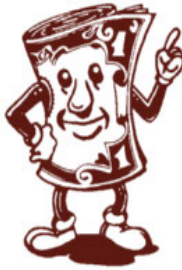

Jesus taught Nicodemus that God loves the world and desires to save it. In what ways do you show love and respect for our world?

COLOR

Read the Gospel of the week and color the image.

4th Sunday of Lent • John 3:14-21

DRAW

Draw a picture of Jesus on the cross. Around the cross, write down your sins in pencil, then erase them. This will show that Jesus has washed all of your sins away.

MISSION

Help your parents wash dishes. As you take dirty dishes and wash them clean, talk about how Jesus washed our sins away on the cross.

GOSPEL

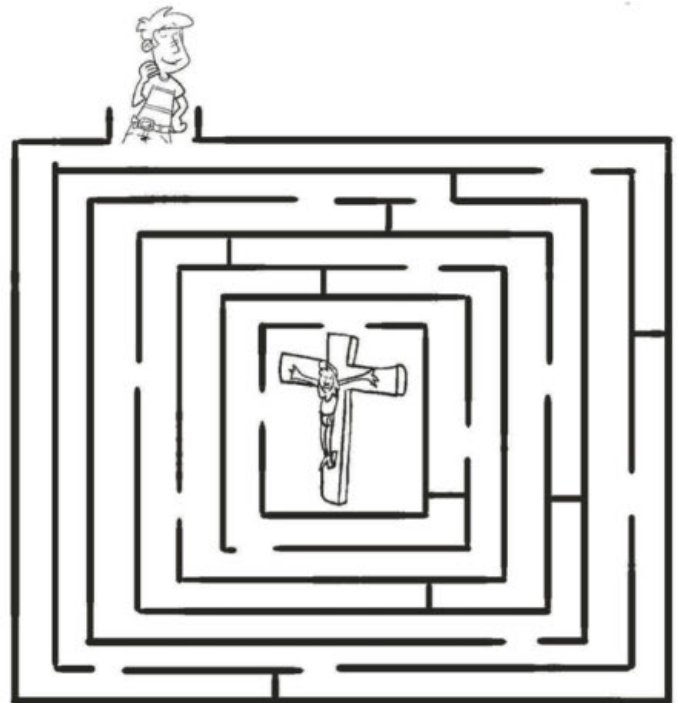

When the Hebrews sinned in the desert, snakes came to bite them. Moses lifted up a metal snake in the desert. If God's people looked at the metal snake, their painful snake bites would be healed. Instead of dying from their snake bites, they would live. Our sins are a lot like those snake bites. Sins turn us away from God, hurt us, and hurt other people. When Jesus was lifted up on the cross, he washed our sins away. Jesus gave us healing and forgiveness. We don't need to die from our sins. We can believe in Jesus, follow God with our whole hearts, and live forever.

PRAYER

God, thank you for sending Jesus to wash away my sins.

PUZZLE
