The Fifth Sunday of Lent:
THE SEED MUST DIE (John 12:20-33)

My brothers and sisters, as we approach the end of the Lenten season, today's Gospel reading from John, and all the readings of this weekend in fact, present us with a powerful message of transformation and sacrifice. All our readings today remind us of the goodness that our God has to offer us.

In this week's Gospel passage, some Greeks come to Philip and say, "Sir, we would like to see Jesus." This simple request serves as a profound moment of revelation, as it signals the beginning of Jesus' journey towards the cross.

Jesus responds by saying, "The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified." He speaks of His impending death and the necessity of His sacrifice for the salvation of all. Jesus uses the image of a grain of wheat falling to the ground and dying to bear much fruit, illustrating the transformative power of His own death and resurrection.

This passage challenges us to reflect on our own lives and the ways in which we are called to die to self to bear fruit for the Kingdom of God. Just as Jesus embraced the cross out of love for us, we too are called to embrace our crosses and follow Him with courage and faith.

We are called to "die" to ourselves by detaching from our own desires and entrusting our lives to all that God has in store for us. Without this practice of self-denial, we might miss occasions God has given us to produce good fruit. We have been practicing this throughout our Lenten season through fasting. One way to continue this effort after Lent is by taking advantage of the countless opportunities God presents to us to sacrifice our desires for something much greater — whether it be waking up 15 minutes earlier to spend time in prayer with the Lord, fasting from a favorite comfort on a weekly basis, or taking the time to call to check in on a friend or family member instead of turning on the TV, just to name a few. It is important to die to ourselves so that we might continue to make room for God and the good things He wants to produce in us all year long.

As we journey through these final days of Lent, let us meditate on the example of Jesus and His ultimate act of love on the cross. Let us be willing to let go of our own desires and ambitions, surrendering ourselves completely to God's will. In doing so, we open ourselves up to the transformative power of God's grace, allowing Him to work in and through us for the glory of His Kingdom.

May we take to heart the words of Jesus in today's Gospel: "Whoever serves me must follow me, and where I am, there also will my servant be." Let us walk with Jesus on the path to Calvary, trusting in His promise of new life and resurrection.

May God bless you abundantly as you continue your Lenten journey, and may His grace sustain you as you strive to follow in the footsteps of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Fr. Mark Kalema, Pastor

Today's Readings

First Reading: All, from least to greatest, shall know me, says the LORD, for I will forgive their evildoing and remember their sin no more. (Jer 31:34)

Psalm: Create a clean heart in me, O God. (Ps 51)

Second Reading: Son though he was, he learned obedience from what he suffered; and when he was made perfect, he became the source of eternal salvation for all who obey him. (Heb 5:8-9)

Gospel: "Unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains just a grain of wheat; but if it dies, it produces much fruit." (Jn 12:24)

Excerpts from the Lectionary for Mass ©2001, 1998, 1970 CCD. The English translation of Psalm Responses from Lectionary for Mass © 1969, 1981, 1997, International Commission on English in the Liturgy Corporation. All rights reserved. ©LPi

Reflect & Respond to Scripture

First Reading:

Through the prophet Jeremiah, God promised Israel "a new covenant": the Lord's law will be written in our hearts and known by all who believe. Do you know people who seem to have a heart-felt faith?

Second Reading:

Hebrews teaches us that Jesus struggled with his own impending suffering and death. During this Lenten season, what has been a struggle for you?

Gospel Question:

Jesus taught that through his own suffering and death, he would drive out the "ruler of this world" (Satan) and draw everyone to himself. In what ways are you drawn to Christ? ©LPi

THREE THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE REAL ST. PATRICK:

1. HE WAS NOT IRISH!
St. Patrick was born in Roman Britain then kidnapped and sold into slavery in Ireland when he was 16.

2. His birth name was Maewyn Succat. He changed his name to PATRICIUS after becoming a priest.

3. After escaping slavery in Ireland and becoming a priest, he willingly returned to the country to promote Catholicism. He is now the PATRON SAINT OF IRELAND.

COLOR

Read the Gospel of the week and color the image.

5th Sunday of Lent • John 12:20-33

DRAW

Draw a picture of yourself sharing your lunch with a friend who has no food.

MISSION

Look for ways to be helpful in your family. Help set the table. Take the trash out. Put away your toys and books without being asked. When your family notices you being so helpful, tell them you are trying to follow Jesus' example.

GOSPEL

When you act bossy, selfish, or rude, no one will want to spend time with you. You will be lonely and unhappy. Follow the example of Jesus instead. Be strong in your faith. Do all that God asks you to do, even when it is not easy. Be honest. Be kind. Share what you have been given. Be helpful. Forgive. Show everyone what God is like. When you follow Jesus' example, you won't be lonely. When people around you see that your faith is real, they will come to you for help. They will want to know what makes you different. Then you can point them to Jesus.

PRAYER

God, help me to follow Jesus. I want to show everyone how great you really are.
